Grand Pass

CONSERVATION AREA

MISSOURI DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

About This Area

Grand Pass Conservation Area is in Saline County, 5 miles southwest of Miami. Six miles of the 5,301-acre area fronts the Missouri River.

The Conservation Department purchased 2,100 acres in 1980, 2,611 acres in 1984 and 385 acres in 1994 and leased 205 more acres in 1986 to form Grand Pass Conservation Area.

The area consists of Missouri River bottomlands, including wetlands, adjacent river islands, agricultural units and timber tracts.

Area development includes levees and water control structures. Waterways and pumps help manage these Missouri River wetlands and restore and maintain habitat for migratory wetland species and associated resident wildlife.

Wetland management consists of providing fall and spring flooded habitat for migratory birds and emergent marshes for resident and breeding wetland wildlife.
